This week in technology, open source, and Linux!

By The Open Source Club

Elections today

- Want to vote? Register with Will at the front

Disclaimer

- The views expressed in this presentation are those of the presentator(s).
- They are not endorsed by or affiliated with any of the people, companies, or entities mentioned.
- No guarantees are made that the information in this presentation is free of errors.

Contributing to the weekly rundown

- ▶ Have something you'd like to talk about or see on the weekly meetings?
- ▶ Feel free to add it to the weekly rundown!
- ▶ Repository is available on GitHub.

Android Studio 2.0 Released

- Instant Run: Changes to a running app appear live.
- Faster Android emulator and adb.
- Cloud Test Lab: Test apps on a wide range of physical devices easily.

GitLab Pages

- Static sites for GitLab projects, groups or users.
- Supports Jekyll, Middleman, Hexo, Pelican, etc…
- Can host websites for free on GitLab.com

Nest Discontinues Revolv

- After buying Revolv back in 2014, Nest is disabling the devices as of May 15th in favor of the Works with Nest system.
- This has sparked controversy since the device offered a "Lifetime Subscription."
- Those who choose to tinker with these devices and keep them alive operate in a legal grey area.

Microsoft Bot Framework

- Open source platform for making chatbots for sms, Skype, Slack, and more.
- Uses node.js on the backend, only supports Windows (at the moment).
- Some sample bots available, such as Bing Image Bot, Caption Bot, and MurphyBot.

Tacobot

- Taco Bell is testing a Slack bot for ordering food or just talking about things.
- You can join a waitlist to try it out.

Fin

- Anything we missed?
- Feel free to share!
- BuckeyeLAN Saturday in Ohio Union Cartoon Room Noon-11 PM
- `http://go.osu.edu/osc_irc`